THE MAJORITY OF INFLUENTIAL PEO-PLE THERE FAVOR IT.

ECONOMY, STABILITY AND IMPROVED CONDI-TIONS ALL ARGUE FOR A FEDERAL UNION

-A DIPLOMAT'S VIEW-PREVIOUS Washington, June 2.—Responding to the interest which the revival of the project for a Central American union has occasioned, a reporter put to one of the best-informed of Central American diplomats What is the initial step that will be taken to secure the formation of a union of all the Central American States? Will the question first be submitted to a vote of the people, in order that the sentiment of several countries may be obtained?" The clever diplomat to whom these queries were addressed smiled pityingly upon his questioner. "The people," he remarked, with a significant shrug of the shoulders, "have little voice in the control of affairs in Central America. Those countries are nominally republican, but they are, as a matter of fact, oligarchies. The question of a union of all the Central American States will be settled mainly by Central American States will be settled mainly by the Presidents of the five countries interested. If

How do the ruling classes regard the proposi-

The great unfority favor it. Nearly all the in fluential people in Central America belong to the liberal party, which is the party of progress, and which is mainly favorable to a closer alliance of all the States. From private letters received in Washington this week it would appear that strong press-ure is being brought to bear upon the Presidents of Guatemala, Henduras and Nicaragua to use their Guatemala, Henduras and Nicaragua to use their influence in favor of the union. If these three will together the result is practically assured. Salvador and Costa Rica are holding aloof, but if the other countries favor such an alliance Salvador and Costa Rica will be compelled to join them." You do not doubt the beneficial result of such a union then?" the diplomat was asked.

"Such a union," he replied, "would be of incalculable benefit to Central America. It would give us a unity of interest which we have now only in a sentimental way. It would decrease our public ex-penses, inasmuch as there would be but one President for the five republics, as well as but one Congress, where there are now five Presidents and as many Congresses. Such a union would guarantee peace throughout all of Central America; it would put an end to petry revolutions, which are sometimes very costly both in life and in money, and it would enable us to present a bold front to any nation which might attempt to bully us."

"How much of an army could the five republics

From 150,000 to 200,000 men. Guatemala could furnish 50,000, Salvador 40,000, Costa Rica 27,000 and hish as,000, Salvador Honduras and Nicaragua 25,000 each. These men would make good soldiers. They could be armed with modern guns, and they would be sufficiently strong to prevent any invasion of the territory. You don't suppose," he continued, "that Mexico would have attempted to make war on Guatemala if Guatemala had been one of the States of a Central American union? Decidedly not. It was this Mexi-can incident and still later the affair at Corinto which have satisfied the Central Americans that they must stand together. The movement looking to this end is now well under way, and I believe it will be a question of comparatively short time ion becomes an accomplished fact. "Do you believe that such a union, if formed,

America have furnished us with a great object-We see how they by force of their union are able practically to defy the world, whereas, if divided as Central America is, no single State or lesson. We see how they by force of their union are able practically to defy the world, whereas, if divided as Central America is, no single State or group of States could maintain itself for any great length of time. The educated classes in Central America, as I say, strongly favor the union of the subject, also approve it.

"Have the Latin-Americans shown their capacity for self-government."

"Have the Latin-American shown the self-government."

"Have the Latin-Americans shown their capacity for self-government."

"Have the Latin-American shown the self-government."

"Have the

MINISTER RANSOM IN POOR HEALTH.

Washington, June 2.-Much concern is expressed by the friends of Minister Ransom, who is on his way some from Mexico on sick leave. The Minister was taken ill while en route to his new post of duty, and has not been able at any time since reaching there to transact the business of the Legation. He went, under advice of the officials of the Department here, to the Hot Springs, at Monterey, but has evidently received no substantial benefit from the evidently received no substantial benefit from the treatment or the waters there. Upon the statement of his physician that five or six weeks' stay in his native country would probably result in his complete restoration to health, the Department of Stategranted him sixty days leave of absence. Minister Ransom will go direct to Ashedlie, in the western part of North Carolina, where it is hoped the braching mountain air and generally salubrious climate will units in the realization of the physician's expectation. Mr. Ransom was ill and feeble hat winter, and it was hoped that his trip to Mexico would result in a speedy improvement of his condition.

THE CORNERSTONE OF THE CAPITOL

marking the cornerstone of the Capitol and com-memorating the auspicious celebration of the 100th memorating the australian by George Washington, on September 18, 1733, was placed in position at the southeast corner of the old building yesterday. There were no exercises connected with putting up the tablet, and few persons outside of the mechanics who did the work and the members of the committee having it in charge knew anything about it.

Washington, June 2 -A dispatch received to-night by Assistant Secretary Uhl, announced the death yesterday at Hull, England, of W. J. H. Ballard, United States Consul at that point. No particulars were given in the message respecting either the cause of death or the disposition of the body. It is assumed, however, that it will be brought to the United States for burial in accordance with the

Your Liver Is out of order if taste, offensive breath, sick headache, slight fever, weight or fulness in Hood's Pills rouse the Liver, cure biless, restore proper digestion, expel accumulated impurities, cure Constipation. Prepared by refreshment to the bath.

A Spoonful of COLGATE & CO.'S Violet Toilet Water

custom of the Department of State, Vice-Consul Gordon B. Daniel has taken charge of the office pending the appointment of a successor. Mr. Ballard was a native of Virginia, and was appointed Consul on June II last year, being a resi-dent of New-York.

NO SHAVES AFTER 1 O'CLOCK.

THE NEW SUNDAY CLOSING LAW GOES INTO EFFECT.

DESPITE IT, SOME OF THE SHOPS DO BUSINES AFTER THE DESIGNATED HOUR-TALK OF

MAKING A TEST OF THE LAW. When the legislators at Albany passed the bill making it a misdemeanor to keep barber-shops the State, excepting this city and Saratoga, where shops are allowed to remain open until 1 o'clock in the afternoon, it did not foresee how the law would be evaded. The law went into effect yesters day. A majority of the barber-shops in this city are in the habit of closing at 1 o'clock in the after-noon on Sundays, and the law did not concern them much. But there are other shops in the more frequented districts where it is profitable to yesterday it would appear that the proprietors of these shops had lived up to the letter of the law. Drawn blinds and tightly closed doors met those who tried to enter. Despite this, there was activity behind these barriers, and any one that was known to the proprietor of the shop could get accommodated. A prominent hotel man said yesterday: "It is foolish to think that the public will go over Sun-day without the barbers. The law closes the shops, but they will evade it in one way or another It is like the fallacy that the saloons are closed on Sunday, and yet any person can go in and get two portions of crackers for a quarter, and in-cidentally, a couple of drinks thrown in. I suppose that in a short time the barbers will give out a check, 'For rent of chair, 15 cents.' No one who is will openly defy the law, but no one who is known around the hotels will find it hard to get a 'tonsorial artist' to give him his Sunday shave.

There was a good deal of grumbling among the barbers employed in shops uptown which have usually kept open on Sunday. When the new law was passed it was halled with delight, and they at once began to figure on how they should spend the newly acquired holiday. The joy was short-lived, however, for either the shops remained open, or appointments were made for barbers to visit their customers in their rooms. This last feature grew to great proportions yesterday. Many regular Sunday customers in the shops, instead of taking the risk of prosecution, arranged with their barbers through the week to call at hotels or apartments and do their work.

The bill is denounced by some barbers as unjust. A number of Brooklyn barbers came over from the City of Churches yesterday to see how things were going. When they saw how it was they we oughly disgusted. They assert that it is driving trade from Brooklyn to New-York, and they cannot understand why, when New-York shops are allowed to remain open half the day, they should not have the same privilege.

The Italian and German barber-shops on the East Side were apparently closed tight after 1 o'clock.

Travellers' Home Association of America, is flood-ing the country with an alleged authorized chart of the Commercial Travellers' Home Association of America, and collecting money for the organization. He is denounced as a fraud by the sub-Executive Committee of the Association, which has

Executive Committee of the Association, which has issued the following proclamation:

This chart has not been produced at the suggestion, by the consent, or with the knowledge of the Commercial Travellers' Home Association of America. Persons claiming to represent this association, directly or indirectly, may at once be set down as imposures, unless they are able to produce a certificate of authority direct from the association, over its seal and the signatures of H. H. Cady, president; Waiter H. Booth, secretary, and George E. Green, chairman of the Beard of Managers.

MARYLAND REPUBLICANS ACTIVE.

Baltimore, June 1 (Special).—The annual convention of the Republican clubs of Maryland, to be held in this city next Tuesday, will be the largest gathering of Republicans ever held in the State. In gathering of Republicans ever held in the State. In the evening there will be a big mass-meeting, at which addresses will be made by Benjamin Butterworth, of Ohio; Thomas H. McKee, of Indiana; Congressmen Weilington, Eaker and Coffin, of Maryland, and Messrs, Robert H. Smith, Lincoln Dryden, James Mallalleu and Dr. W. S. Booze, There are now 700 flourishing Republican clubs in Maryland. Invitations have been sent out to prominent Republicans throughout the State, to be present at the mass-meeting. William T. Maister, the shipbuilder, has formally announced his candidacy for the Governorship. The race seems to be between him and Lloyd Lowndes, of Cumberland.

Baltimore, June 2-Arthur L. Bricknell, a salesman for Hanline Brothers, paint dealers of Brook-lyn, N. Y., was found unconscious in his room at lyn, N. Y., was found unconscious in his room at No. 218 West Franklin-st., to-day. The room was filled with gas, the burner being turned on full. He was taken to a hospital and is in a critical condi-tion. A scaled letter addressed to Mrs. Ida Brick-nell, No. 229 Pretiman-ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., was found in his room. It is said at the hospital that the man will probably die.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 2.-A trolley-car, full of pleasure-seekers on their way to Onondaga Lake, jumped the track and rolled down an embankment at 11 o'clock this morning. Out of twenty passen-gers only five escaped without injury. The car was going at a high rate of speed, and in going down the embankment tore loose from the trucks and the embankment tore loose from the trucks and rolled completely over, landing on its roof in a puddle of water two feet deep. That no one was killed is nothing short of miraculous. A broken collar-bone, a broken leg, a broken arm, internal injuries, cuts and abrasions were sustained by the passengers. Two boys, who were riding on the side platforms, were thrown insensible into the water, but were rescued by a policeman.

SMUGGLED CIGARS SEIZED.

THE SUPPOSED LEADER PLACED UNDER ARREST.

imparts a delightful fragrance and PLANS LAID FOR HIS CAPTURE-THE GOODS DE-LIVERED AT FRISCH & CO.'S STORE IN

THE ASTOR HOUSE. The eigarstore of Frisch & Co., No. 6 Astor House, was on Saturday evening the scene of one of the biggest seizures of smuggled cigars that has taken place in this city for some years. Daniel J. McLeod, who is supposed to be the leader of an extensive cigar-smuggling organization, was ar-rested at the same time and lodged in Ludiow Street Jail on a charge of attempting to de'raud the customs of thir port.

The detection of the smuggling operations and subsequent seizure of a large consignment of Ha-vana cigars was due primarily to information given to the authorities by John W. Manton, who is con nected with the firm of Frisch & Co., cigar dealers, of No. 6) Cortlandt-st. and No. 6 Aster House. It seems that on Friday, the 24th ult., McLeod called on Manton and offered to sell him 1,000 smuggled Havana cigars. Mr. Manton desired to see samples, which, upon production, were found to be genuine Havanes. A conversation ensued, in the course of which McLeod admitted that he had more of the chars in question, for which he demanded $10 per hundred. Manton insisted that this was entirely too much to ask for this class of goods, and McLeod said he had some cigars in smaller sizes that he would sell cheaper. The following day McLeod called with samples of the smaller lot, but Manton, being too busy to talk with him, requested him to call again on the following Monday. He called, and Manton found that these goods, too, were genuine.

Manion now determined to inform the Federal authorities, and on the following morning he sent a message to Commissioner Alexander, in the Postoffice Building, who sent Messrs. Finley and Scully, Secret Service deputies, who acted in con sort with Mr. Manton, and laid plans for McLeod's capture and the seizure of the goods.

Inspectors remained on watch at the Post office Building from Wednesday until Friday of last week, hoping to get a gitmpse of the smuggler. But McLeod was wary, and, although having an week, hoping to get a glimpse of the smuggler. But McLeod was wary, and, although having in appointment to call on Mr. Manton, he did not show up until Friday evening, at which time the inspectors were not on the lookout.

Manton at once sent a messenger to the Inspectors, but McLeod had gone before they arrived. Manton, however, perfected arrangements with the smuggler to deliver at No. 6. Astor House on Saturday evening at 7:10 o'clock his entire stock of 21,500 cigars, for which he was to receive $1,287 spot cash. He kept his agreement, though he declined to enter the store.

Mr. Manton had the cases of cigars in a rear room and urged McLeod to assist him in opening and examining them. But the latter declined, persisting in staying close by the door and keeping a vigilant watch upon the Federal Building, opposite. Presently, is opening one of the cases, Manton managed to meet with a slight accident that distracted McLeod's attention and threw him off his guard for a moment.

This moment was improved by one of the clerks to touch the electric switch and illuminate the show window. This was the pre-arranged signal for the Inspectors, who a few minutes later strolled into the store and demanded to see some Havana cigars. They also asked to look at the cases that just came in.

came in.

McLeod took alarm, and on attempting to leave the store he was arrested. He manifested no agitation, continuing to smoke his cigar coolly. He was taken to Ludlow Street Jall and the cigars were sent to the Customs House scirure room the same evening.

McLeed will be brought up for examination this morning. Since his arrest he has maintained the greatest reticence with regard to the affair.

RECOGNIZED BY THE COACHMAN.

CHARLES WESSELF THOUGHT TO KNOW SOME THING OF THE HARRIS MURDER.

The Central Office detectives detailed on Harris murder case worked harder yesterlay than they had for several days. They had various clews, mostly furnished by the small army of amateur detectives, whose attention has been attracted to the case by Mr. Rorden's offer of $10,000 reward. The day ended with one possibly im-portant person in custody in the West Twen-tieth-st, police station, and the mysterious colored prisoner at Headquarters, about whom the detec ives would say nothing.

No. 2,108, and his name is Charles Wesself.

The man has a picture in the Rogues' Gatlery, The information which led to his arrest was fur The information which led to his attention the nished by Alexander Gunzburg, an agent for the New-York Life Insurance Company, of No. 261 Broadway. He and the prisoner roomed together. On the day of the murder Wesself came home about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. He was dripping about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. He was dripping about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. He was dripping wet, and his face was as white as chalk. He was painfully nervous. Shortly afterward he went out, and returned in a few minutes with an evening and returned in a few minutes with an evening newspaper. He read an article on the first page, and then, without saving a word, walked out of the house and did not return again. He left all his clothing benind him and all his property. Gunzburg made up his mind that his roommate was the man wanted by the police, and reported to Captain Steinkampf, of the East Fifty-first-st, station. When the prisoner was taken to the West Twentieth-st, station, Acting Captain Lynch telegraphed to Mr. Borden, at Oceanic, N. J., to send Katie Murphy here for the purpose of identifying the prisoner, Dispatches also, for reasons not given out, were sent to James Tupe, of No. 250 West Sixy-disal-st, and to Athert Belkert, No. 2908 Third-ave. A fourth was sent to Charles Smith, Sheppard Knapp's coachman. The last three arrived at the station about 9 o'clock, and Captain Lynch lines up twelve men, the prisoner among them. Then he brought out the other three men to pick out the one they thought they had seen at various times and suspected of connection with the mirder. Tupe could not likentify Wesself at all. Bolkert walked up hell not likentify Wesself at all. Bolkert walked up and down the line, and, stopping in front of Wesself, placed his hand on his shoulder and said: This looks like the man, but I would not swear to it. Smith the coachman, was more positive. He walked up hellind the twelve men, and without seeing Wesself's face, said: That's one of the men whom I saw running up the street, right after the murder. In response to questions from the captain the prisoner said that he would make out a statement of his doiners on the day of the murder. He submitted a written statement covering seventeen pages, in which he stated that on the day of the murder. In response to questions from the captain the prisoner said that he would make out a s wet, and his face was as white as chalk. He was Cincinnati, June 2.—This has been a sort of red letter day in Cincinnati Methodism. The Church Extension Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church gelization this afternoon. The Cincinnati society was organized primarily to assist weak and strug gling congregations of the faith and to build new churches, but its field of usefulness has been ex-tended to mission work. It has established seven flourishing mission churcher, and has under its charge one of the largest Sunday-schools in the city. It has saved to Methodism nineteen churches, aggregating in value $8,000. The superintendent of the society, the Rev. Madison Swadener, an indeaggregating in value 80.00. The supermember of the society, the Rev. Madison Swadener, an indefatigable worker in the mission field, conceived the idea of introducing a Gospel waron to supplement the work of the society. He found a sympathetic friend in T. A. Sayder, a wealthy layman, who presented Dr. Swadener with an outilt as a personal gift, which was dedicated this afternoon in front of the Garfield monument, at Eighth and Race sta. The "little church on wheels" is an elaborate affair, representing an outing of $1.50. Fourteen people can be seated comfortably, while space in the centre is reserved for the preacher, giving him ample room to move around and survey the audience on all sides of him. Jesse R. Clark, the president of the society, conducted the dedicatory services, assisted by Superintendent Swadener and the Rev. Dr. H. H. Rust, the presiding elder of the district. Mustic was furnished by a double quartet selected from the church choirs, with organ and cornet accompaniment. The large crowd in attendance was augmented by hundreds of Methodists who were there to express their appreciation of Dr. Swadener's unselfish devotion to the work.

Annapolis, Md., June 2.-This will be an important week in the lives of the Naval Academy boys who are fortunate enough to be of this year's graduatare fortunate chough to be a graduation week will begin to-morrow with the reception of the Board of Visitors. There will be a seamanship drill on board the Monongahela in the afternoon. On Tuesday there will be a battle drill, target practice. machine-shop drill, steam tactles and boats under oars. A battalion of infantry will open Wednesoars. A battalion of infantry will open Wednesday's exercises, to be followed by a competitive company drill and a dress parade in the evening. On Thursday a battalion of artillery, fencing, setting up and gymnastics is the programme, to precede a dress parade. Friday will be given up to gradulating exercises, and at night the annual hop will close the programme.

The honor man this year is Stuart Parar Smith, of Philadelphia, a son of General Smith, of the Army. He is one of the youngest members of his class, being only twenty years of age. Cadet William G. Groesbeck, of Ohio, is the only other star member of the class. He is a son of Dr. H. G. Groesbeck, of Cincinnati.

GOOD JUDGES OF CARPETS Are Early Purchasers at Prices Given by COWPERTHWAIT & CO., 104 West 14th St., Near 6th Avenue.

THE PRICE OF SILVER

is still fluctuating among the lowest figures it has ever reached, and to meet this depression we have within the past month again revised the prices of our entire stock of Sterling Sil-

Our patrons are assured of always securing immediate advantages of any fluctuations in their favor in the values of our commodities.

TIFFANY & CO.

UNION SQUARE NEW YORK

GUESTS AT LEADING HOTELS.

ASTOR-T. C. Blackwell, Kansas City; W. A. Darling, George P. Dunmore, Baston; Edward S. Cone, St. Louis; H. A. Perkins, Miss T. G. Curran, Portland; W. B. Bates, Chicago; E. A. Niven, Wilkesbarre; E. W. Boyce, Buf-falo; H. Colleen, Butte City, Mont.; George H. Price, Nashville; A. E. Manchester, Kentucky; George Schmidt, Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. William K. Russell, Providence; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Whitten, Boyce, Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. William K. Russell, Providence; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Whitten, Boston.

BUCKINGHAM-Norman W. Dodge, New-York; Fred E. Driggs, Brooklyn; F. E. De Wolf, Rhode Island; Willard E. Hoyt, Williamatown, Mass.; C. A. Whittier, New-York; Miss McConlibe, Troy; Mrs. and Miss Nelson, Chleago; Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Pruyn, Albany; S. C. Kelley, Hartford; C. T. Conney, Summit, N. J.; Mrs. F. L. Norton, Boston; J. Albert Butler, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. D. Borden, B. H. Borden, Nathan Durfee, L. G. Woodhouse, Ernest K. Adams, H. S. Borden, William T. Hart, New-York; Mrs. William Windom, Miss Windom, Washington, D. C.

BRUNSWICK-M. H. Broughton, Chleago; H. L. Persse,

BRUNSWICK-M. H. Broughton, Chicago; H. L. Person BRUNSWICK M. H. Broughton, Chicago; R. L. Fernas, Dublin; C. A. Duffmiller, London, England; George K.
McLeod, St. John, N. B.; Mr. and Mrs. Quincy A.
Shaw, Miss Faulins Shaw, Quincy A. Shaw, Ir., Mrs. N.
K. Hayes, Boston; R. A. Chadwick, Los Angeles, Cal.;

K. Hayes, Boston; R. A. Chadwick, Los Angeles, Cal.; Miss M. Queen, Wilmington, N. C. EVERETT-Mcs. G. K. Warren, Miss Warren, Newport; F. E. Spooner, W. E. Ingersoll, L. Richardson, Chicago; C. Baker, Columbus; M. F. Carter, Baltimore, H. R. Samson, Syracuse; W. Jerome, Newark; A. W. Warren, Chicago; A. J. Brown, Cleveland; M. J. Dunn, Springfield; W. J. Hyland, Chicago; Peter Cooper, Wilmington, Del.; Emerson Woods, London, England; Helen V. Allen, Terre Haute; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Dixon, Boston; Mrs. J. Z. Lowe and daughter, Norfolk, Va.

mington, Delt. Emerson Woods, London, Fondand, Freder V. Allen, Terre Haute; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Dixon, Boston, Mrs. J. Z. Lowe and daughter, Norfolk, Va. GHLSEY-R. N. Gourdin Smith, New-Orleans; W. S. Steel, Madison, Wis., Eunens E. Lvins, Rome, Ga.; R. D. Palack, John Quartz, San Francisco; Miss Emma Estes, Cincinnati; James S. Atwell, Washington; N. W. Taylor, Cleveland; A. Nicourd, St. Louis, GRAND UNION—James F. Wood, Sayville, Long Island; H. F. Hite, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Parrington, Asbury Park, William N. Ladue, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Ferris, Rochester; James Leelle, William Leslie, Miss Leelle, S. C. Leelle, Charlotte, N. C.; W. Grant, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Corbold, Toronto, HOFFMAN—E. D. Cumming, M. W. Middlebrook, A. M. Crowe, Boston; E. W. Vers, Providence, J. R. White, Norfolk, Va.; A. M. Hischof, Chicinnati, J. J. Blumberg, Morris Kohn, William Hofflemer, Chicago; Joseph Mass, Cincinnati, Joseph Friedberg, Milwauke; H. Dill, Almestown, J. R. Miss Deshler, Celumbury, A. Gilbert, Jr. Jamestown, Jr. Histon, R. P. Lamestown, J. R. Miss Deshler, Celumbury, A. Gilbert, Jr. Jamestown, J. R. Pix Here.

ngland, R. Newton Hawley, Milwaukee, William J. Bark, Montana, Mrs. H. Davis, Pittsburg, Mr. and Mrs.

Athena C. H. Woodard, Amsterdam,
NETHERLAND- Mr. and Mrs. Larry Levy, New-York;
Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ediale, Celerado Springs; John M.
Rover, J. J. Arkland, Chlengo; Mrs. C. Golfrey, St.

PARK AVENTE James Ferris, Syracuse; W. R. Stel-er, New-Jersey; J. C. Heartt, Troy, George Fawcett, H. Markle, New-York: Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Adams,

PLAZA-R. W. Patterson, J. Taylor Marsh, London; F. Howe, S. F. Richards, Mrs. Richards, Boston-SAVOY-E. G. Glenn, Richmond, Va.; G. Grabfield incinnati; Mrs. P. Roche, Master H. Dissel, Syracuse Maurice Wendell, Chicago, Miss R. K. Michael

Rochester, ST. CLOUD-A. J. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Byrnest, Sara toga: Mr. Zimmerinan, Miss Blanchard, Bethel, Conn. Miss Louise Cleory, M. Cleory, Eugene Cowles, Boston M. B. Claussen, M. B. Byrnes, Saratogs, S. JAMES-Mr. and Mrs. Julius J. Schotten, Miss A. Goesaling, St. Louis; B. M. Martin, Atlanta; L. C. Tall

man, Chicage,
STURTEVANT-W. J. Wright, J. W. Cheswright,
George S. Fleming, Pittsburg, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gares,
Philadelphia; E. R. Mackay, Chicago, Frank Thompson,
Pittsburg, Mr. and Mrs. E. Phelps, Rossville, N. Y.

DAMAGE BY A CLOUDBURST.

Curtis, Neb., June 2-A storm which visited this vicinity yesterday developed into a cloudburst. The flood struck the railway yards, cutting its way through to the river valley below, and made a breach 100 feet across and 25 feet deep. Five lines breach 100 feet across and 25 feet deep. Five lines of track are suspended over the breach, Boxcars standing on the tracks went down and are floating in the valley, and many more were dumped into the water and broken up. A mill standing on the north side of the tracks is undermined, and cannot stand over night. The railroad tracks are under water east of here. Many farmers report loss of stock by drowning in the flood. The damage to the railroad will reach $15,000 and to the mill property $2,000.

OHIO SOLID FOR M'KINLEY

Youngstown, Ohio, June 2.-Judge Lewis W. King said to-night that the delegation to the Nationa

RUIN AND MISERY

WHAT WILL BECOME OF THE YOUNG MEN OF THE DAY?

Cigarette smoking is one of the evils which is fast increasing among the young men of the period. It is an age of nervousnees, nervous excitement, nervous weakness and debility is the growing malady of the day. Minds are over-burdened in school, the pleasures of social life follow business worry; intemperance, sexual excesses or abuses over excite the alterady enfeebled nerves and result in exhausting diseases or drains upon the nervous system.

The sa dring and a handleng to every young man to be a sufferer from nervous debility or weakness, low spirits, irritable temper, impaired memory, loss of will-power, and the thousand and one derangements of mind and body that result from permicious habits often contracted through ignorance of nature's laws. The wreck of constitution, weakened vitality and manly power, following such habits would be a sorry ending to life in this spendid age of iearning and labor. It will fast become an age of insenting the habits would be a sorry ending to life in this spendid age of iearning and labor. It will fast become an age of insenting the horse to health and happiness, is the aim of the publishers of a book of 145 pages, written in plain but chaste language, on the nature, symptoms and curability, by home treatment, of such disease. This book will be sent scaled, in plain envelope, on receipt of this notice with ten cents in stamps, for postage. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 665 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

For more than a quarter of a century physicians connected with this widely celebrated Institution have made the treatment of the diseases hinted at above their specialty. Thousands have consulted them by letter and received advice and medicines which have resulted in permanent cure. Sufferers from premature old age, or loss of power, will find much of interest in the book above mentioned.

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

NARROW ESCAPES AT A FIRE. PLUCKY POLICEMEN RESCUE TWO PEOPLE BY CATCHING THEM AFTER JUMPING.

A kerosene lamp, in the apartments of Sabbeth Seibert, a provision dealer, on the second floor of No. 128 Norman-ave., exploded at an early hour yesterday morning, setting fire to the apartments Seibert, who was awakened by the smoke, aroused his wife and then escaped down the stairway to the street. As they passed through the hallway they alarmed the other tenants. On the third floor of the building lived Henry Gross, with his young wife. Gross started down the stairs, and had gone about half way when the flames shot out from Seibert's rooms, driving him back. He reached his apartments again with difficulty, on account of the dense smoke, and found his wife at a rear window screaming for help. Her cries had been heard by Policemen Kelly and Davis, of the Seventh Precinct, who climbed up to an extension and told the cinet, who climbed up to an extension and told the woman to jump. She did so, and the officers caught her. Gross followed his wife and both were assisted to the street without injury.

When the firemen arrived, the flames had communicated to the two-story frame house No. 126 Norman-ave, owned by Herbert Williams. After an hour's fighting, the fire was extinguished, with a loss of $2,660.

A MYSTERY ABOUT THIS DEATH. ses Cashman, thirty-two years old, was found James Cashman, thirty-two years old, was found dead in the hallway of his home. No. 127 Eagle-st., Brooklyn, early yesterday morning. There was a gash over the right temple, which, the police say, was evidently made by a fall. On the other hand, a relative of the man says he heard Cashman and a number of men quarrelling in front of the house an hour before his deed body was found, and believes he was murdered.

Detectives Dunn and Behlen, of the Seventh Pre-Detectives Dunn and Behlen, of the Seventh Precinct. learned that Cashman had been drinking freely Saturday night in a place in Manhattan-ave, near Freeman-st, and that he left the place with a number of friends, who accompanied him to his home and said goodnight. The party was in a happy mood and had not quarrelied.

A woman living in the Eagle-st, house told the Police that she had heard some one coming up the stairs about 2 o'clock, who, after reaching the top, fell down again. She did not leave her room to see who the person was. Coroner Creamer will have an autopsy made on the body.

A MEMORIAL WINDOW UNVEILED. A window to the memory of George L. Pease, the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian Church yesterday with appropriate ceremonies, under the direction of the Rev. Dr. David Gregg. The bottom of the window bears the following inscription: In memory of George Lerin Pease. Born June 26, 1835—Died Pebruary 25, 1895.

The window is pronounced beautiful by art lovers, It represents the scene in the boyhood of Christ when he disputed with the doctors in the temple. The window, which was made by the Tiffanys, of New-York, was begun before the death of Mr. Pease, and was intended by him as a gift to the church, but it now stands as his memorial.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN. Miss Helen E. Savage, a teacher in Packer Ina tour of Europe, which will last till September Misses C. M. Stillwell, Mary McLean, Margaret Gregg, Etta Lovejoy and Josephine Haseltine, The party will sail on the Britannic on June 12. The itinerary includes a visit to Brussels, Inverness, Edinburgh, Rotterdam, Cologne, The Hague, Amsterdam, along the Ithine to the Black Forest, to Sattzerland and return, to the Isle of Wight, the English towns, and Dublin and Killarney.

The receipts of the Brooklyn Postoffice from the sale of postage stamps, stamped envelopes, etc., for May, 18%, amounted to $34.494.63, an increase of $4,365 83, or 5.45 per cent, over the corresponding month of 1894.

Sir Bruce Burnside and his son Bertram were the guests on Thursday of the former's nephew, Gregory Burnside, of No. 237 Forty-fifth-st. Sir Bruce, who, it may be remembered, reviewed in company with General Harrison and Prince Francis Joseph of Battenberg the Sunday-school anniversary parade, was for about fourteen years Engish Chief Justice of Ceylon. During the late war ils services were successfully employed in a debuilt in Liverpool and was proceeding to the Bahamas for her armament when captured by a Union cruiser. The Third Ward Republican Club will dedicate its new clubhouse, at No. 14 Dean-st., to-morrow evening. Congressman Francis H. Wilson, Congressman Denis M. Hurley, Samuel Drew, Sheriff Buttling and others are expected to make speeches. Bishop McDonnell, of Brooklyn, is now in Ireland, on his way home. He will probably be presthe centenary celebration of St. Patrick's Peation Society. At 2:30 p. m. L. C.

Members of St. Peter's Catholic Library Asso-lation yesterday observed their usual annual cusom of decorating the grave of their friend and mefactor, Father Fransioli, in Flatbush, Bethel Mission, connected with Plymouth Church elebrated its twenty-ninth anniversary at the Bethel, in Hicks-st., yesterday afternoon with ap-propriate ceremonies. William Vaughn Tupper and others made addresses.

There is already a lively contest on hand over the vacant principalship of Grammar School No. 9, Professor Mickleborough's old place Professors Vlymen, Witherbee and Lyon, the latter of the Boys' High School, are said to be candidates.

The members of the 47th Regiment, Colonel Eddy commanding, attended services last evening at Christ Church, Bedford-ave, and Clymer-st. The sermon was preached by the Rev. James H. Darlington, paster of the church and chaplain of the

After being thoroughly renovated, St. Mary's Church of the Immaculate Conception, at Maujer and Leonard sts., was reopened yesterday and redeficatory services were held. The paster of the church is the Rev. James T. Crowley. William A. Parrenore, fifty-two years old, a proofing down a carpet in the dining-room of his home, No. 812 Halsey-st., Saturday evening, was stricken with apoplexy, and died before the arrival of a 193 Nineteenth-st., was arrested for intoxication last night, and lodged in the Fifth-ave. station. Later he was found dead, hanging by the neck from his cell door. He had used one of his sus penders for a rope. Mrs. Annie Lonergan, of No. 387 Warren-st., died in the Long Island College Hospital last night from burns received on Wednesday night last at er home. She was found with her clothing halfburned off in a bed, and was partly under the influence of liquor. She said that her husband had thrown a lighted lamp at her, but afterward told the Coroner that she did not remember the affair. Lonergan was jailed on the charge of causing his

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Birmingham, Ala., June 2 (Special).—Near Moulton, Lawrence County, this morning the team of William Cowart, a planter, who was returning from church, frightened at two dogs fighting in the road and ran away, upsetting the carriage. Cowart was caught in the wheels and crushed to death, his tenyear-old son was kicked to death by the horses, and his five-year-old daughter received fatal injuries. Mirs. Cowart was thrown from the carriage and badly hurt.

For 72 Years!

THE STANDARD OF THE WORLD.

HAVE STOOD Without a Peer. CHICKERING & SONS,

130 Fifth Avenue.

ALWAYS HAPPY—The man who drinks out absolutely pure American wines, under an American label, in preference to an often adulterated imported wine that costs double the price. The are for those Americans who have faith in Call-fornia products. Sold by all dealers. Send for

PACIFIC COAST WINE CO., 849 Broadway and 1496 Third Avenue, New-York

YOU WILL be HAPPY If you have LAMPS, WE MAKE and Trade-Mark THE "MILLER" WE STARKE AND THE STORY SHOP, hotel, church, &c., &c. NO OTHER SO GOOD. A THOUSAND VARIETIES, EVERY ONE GUARANTEED EDWARD MIHER & Co., 28 & 30 W. Broadway, Between Park Place and Barclay St., New-York, DEBS FEELS THE HALTER DRAW.

WAIL FROM THE CONVICTED CONSPIRATOR AS HE BEGINS HIS JOURNEY TO THE JAIL. Fargo, N. D., June 2.-Eugene V. Debs addressed an American Railway Union meeting last night,

He left here to-day for Chicago, to be there by Tuesday to begin serving his sentence. Terre Haute, Ind., June 2.—Eugene V. Debs, predent of the American Railway Union, has addressed a circular letter to the members of that organia-tion in relation to the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court. The circular says:

A cruel wrong against our great and beloved order, perpetrated by William A. Woods, United States Circuit Judge, has been approved by the United States Supreme Court: but though prison walls frown upon myself and others whom you chose as officials of your order. I assure you that neither despondency nor despair has taken the place of the course which has characterized us and our order since the storms of persecution first began to beat upon us. We have not loss faith in the ultimate triumph of truth over perjury, of justice over wrong, however exalted may be the stations of those who perpetrate the outrages.

Debs then reviews incidents leading up to and the results of the great railway strike, and says:

the results of the great railway strike, and says:

In Russia the victim of autocratic displeasure is denied a trial by a jury of his peers. William A. Woods carries out the Russian practice. In Russia the doomed man or woman is arraigned before the supreme despot or one of his numerous sarrags. Truth, justice, mercy are forever exiled. Age, sex, character, innocence, name and condition count for nothing. It is enough to know that the brave soull yearned for freedom, and the nenalty of exile, imprisonment or death is indicted, and it has come to this at last in the United States of America, that the law of injunction is the will of a despot, and by the exercise of this Russian power. American Railway Union officials go to prison, and the hope is that, by the exercise of this power, the American Railway Union will be crushed. In this supreme juncture I call upon the members of the American Railway Union to stand by their order. In God's own good time we will make the despot's prisons, where innocent men suffer, monumental.

MISSION MEETINGS AT SARATOGA.

Saratoga, N. Y., June 2.-To-day has been a distinetly missionary Sunday here. In the greater number of the churches the pulpits were filled, both morning and evening, by ministers in attendance at the Baptist May anniversaries. At the First Baptist Church this morning J. B. Hawthorne, of Atlanta, Ga., preached before the Baptist Pub-Philadelphia, addressed the Bapt Society, and this evening O. P. Offord, of New-York, addressed the Baptist Missionary Union. All the services were largely attended. The Bap-tist Publication Society will end its sessions to-morrow evening.

THE WEATHER REPORT

EXTREME HEAT IN MANY PLACES. Washington, June 2.—The area of high pressure which was central over Tennessee and Kentucky still continues, but the area of low pressure which was central in Northeern New-Mexico has moved northeast and is now central in Kansas. It has been necempanied by general rains and much cooler weather. The temperature has remained about stationary over the eastern half of the country, and has fallen ten to fifteen degrees in the western portion. Along the New-England coast the temperature has risen from eight to fourteen degrees. The following stations reported maximum temperatures to-day from one to twelve degrees higher than any previously recorded by the Weather Bureau for the first decade in June: Eastport, Northfield, Block Island, Nantucket, Albany, New-York, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, Vickaburg, Memphia, Chaletanooga, New-Orieans, Mobile, Atlanta, Augusta, Savannah, Charleston, Charlotte, Raleigh, Meridian, Louisville, Indianapolis, Columbus, Parkersburg, Toledo, Detrott, Port Huron, Green Bay, Milwauke, Chicago, Springfield, Port Huron, Green Bay, Milwauke, Chicago, Springfield, Ill., and St. Louis, There is a prospect of lower temperature over the eastern part of the country by Tuesday night. Thunderstorms and rains are indicated for the central valleys. Washington, June 2.- The area of high pressure which

DETAILED FORECAST FOR TO-DAY.

For Maine, fair; cooler in southern portion; westerly For New-Hampshire, fair; cooler in eastern portion; For Vermont, fair; cooler in extreme a

For Massachusetts, fair; slightly cooler in eastern por tion; westerly winds.
For ithode Island and Connecticut, fair; stationary

For Roose Island tremperature; westerly winds.

For Eastern New-York, fair; continued high temperature; cooler weather by Tuesday; southerly winds.

For Eastern Pennsylvania, fair; stationary temperature, followed by slightly cooler, variable winds.

For New-Jersey, fair; stationary temperature; variable fair; continued high temperature, followed by cooler weather on Tuesday afternoon or night; southerly winds. For Virginia, fair; continued high temperature; south-perature, followed by cooler weather on Tuesday after-soon; southeasterly winds.

noon; southeasterly winds.

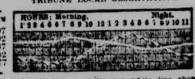

For Western Pennsylvania, generally fair; continued high temperature, followed by cooler weather on Tuesday afternoon; southerly winds.

For Western New-York, generally fair; cooler in central portion; southerly winds.

For Ohio, showers, cooler in western portion on Monday night; cooler on Tuesday; southeasterly winds.

For Indiana, showers, cooler; easterly winds.

TRIBUNE LOCAL OBSERVATIONS

in this diagram a continuous white line shows the changes in pressure as indicated by The Tribune's self-recording barometer. The dotted line represents the temperature recorded at Perry's Pharmacy. was clear except for cloudiness in the afternoon; the ex-treme heat continued. The temperature ranged between 77 and 96 degrees, the average (84%) being 16 degree higher than on Saturday and 24% degrees higher than eather corresponding day last year.

The weather to-day is likely to be fair, with stationary temperature.

> When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria